Continuation of Group Health Coverage for Qualified Persons.

The Consolidated Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act of 1985 (COBRA) requires that your group plan allow qualified persons (described below) to continue group health coverage after it would otherwise end. The term "group health coverage" includes any medical, dental, vision care, and prescription drugs coverages that are included in the group health plan.

This form does not state:

- (a) all of the terms of the plan.
- (b) all of the terms of the plan which restrict coverage or benefits by condition or limitation.
- (c) all of the terms required by law.

A complete description of plan provisions and benefits is outlined in the booklet certificate previously provided or by contacting the plan administrator.

(A) Qualified Persons/Qualifying Events. Persons who qualify for COBRA continuation:

- (1) A member (and any covered dependents) whose group health coverage ends due to the member's: (a) termination of employment for a reason other than gross misconduct; or (b) a reduction in work hours. (Note: Taking a leave under the federal Family and Medical Leave Act (FMLA) is not a qualifying event under COBRA. A member qualifies for COBRA when the member does not return to work after the end of FMLA leave.)
- (2) A member's former spouse (and any children) whose coverage ends due to divorce or legal separation.
- (3) A member's surviving spouse and/or children whose coverage ends due to the member's death.
- (4) A member's child whose coverage ends due to ceasing to be a dependent child under the terms of the plan.
- (5) A member's spouse and/or children whose coverage ends if the member is enrolled under Medicare.
- (6) A member's child who is born to or placed for adoption with the member who is on COBRA continuation due to termination of employment or reduction in work hours.

(B) Maximum Continuation Period. Group health coverage can continue up to the maximum continuation period. The following are the maximum continuation periods:

- (1) 18 months following a termination of employment or reduction in work hours for all qualified persons (members and their covered dependents).

Exception: Following a termination of employment or reduction in work hours, a qualified person may request an 11-month disabled extension of COBRA continuation. The maximum COBRA continuation will be 29 months (see section H for further information).

- (2) 36 months for dependents following the death of the member, a loss of dependent status under the plan, a divorce or legal separation, or the date the member is enrolled under Medicare (also see B(3) below).

Note: If coverage for a dependent was terminated in anticipation of a divorce or legal separation, the 36 months begins on the date of divorce or legal separation.

- (3) When a member becomes enrolled under Medicare before employment terminates or work hours are reduced, the maximum continuation period for the dependents will be the longer of:
 - (a) 36 months dating back to the member's enrollment under Medicare; or
 - (b) 18 months from the date of the qualifying event (termination of employment or reduction in work hours).
- (4) For a member's child that is born to or placed for adoption with the member while on COBRA continuation, the maximum continuation period for that child will be the member's maximum continuation period.

- (5) If any of the qualifying events described in A(2) through A(5) above occur during the 18-month continuation period (or 29 months for qualified persons on the disabled extension), such period may be extended for the qualified dependents to 36 months dating from the member's termination of employment or reduction in work hours. The extension is only available if the second qualifying event described in A(2) through A(5), absent the first qualifying event, would result in a loss of coverage for dependents under the group health plan. A member's child who is born to or placed for adoption with the member who is on COBRA continuation may also be eligible for a second qualifying event that occurred prior to birth or placement for adoption.

(C) Termination of COBRA Continuation. COBRA continuation ends the earliest of the following:

- (1) The date the maximum continuation period ends.
- (2) The date the qualified person becomes enrolled under Medicare; however, this does not apply to a person who is already enrolled in Medicare on the date he/she elects COBRA..
- (3) The date the qualified person becomes covered by and has satisfied the preexisting exclusion provision of another group health plan; however, this does not apply to a person who is already covered by the other group health plan on the date he/she elects COBRA.
- (4) The end of the last coverage period for which payment was made if payment is not made before the grace period ends (see item E below).
- (5) The date the group health plan is terminated. (The continuation period may be completed under the replacement plan, if any.)

Note: Persons who, after the date of COBRA continuation election, become entitled to Medicare or become covered under another group health plan and have satisfied the preexisting exclusion provision, are not eligible for continued coverage.

(D) Monthly Cost. Qualified persons who elect COBRA continuation are required to pay the entire cost for the continued coverage as well as an additional 2% billing fee as allowed by COBRA. Persons who qualify for the disabled extension and are not part of the family unit that includes the disabled person are required to pay the entire cost for the continued coverage as well as an additional 2% billing fee during the disability extension. Persons who qualify for the disabled extension and are part of the family unit that includes the disabled person are required to pay 148% of the entire cost plus the 2% billing fee for the 19th through the 29th month of coverage (or through the 36th month if a second qualifying event occurs during the disabled extension).

(E) Grace Period. Qualified persons have 45 days after the initial election to remit the first payment. The first payment must include all payments due when sent. All other payments (except for the first payment) will be timely if made within 30 days following the due date (date of monthly statement), or within the grace period of the plan if it is longer than 30 days. (Longer grace periods are not available in Nevada.) Qualified persons are responsible for making sure premium is paid timely and correctly. The amount due for the initial monthly payment is reflected in this notice. Claims will be honored through each coverage period as long as payment is received before the end of the grace period. If payment is received after the due date, but before the end of the grace period, claims will be suspended as of the due date until payment is received. Coverage will be retroactively reinstated when payment is received.

If payment is not received before the end of the grace period, the right to COBRA continuation ends.

(F) Qualified Person Notice and Election Requirements. Qualified persons must notify the plan administrator of a qualifying event within 60 days after: (a) the date of a qualifying event (i.e., divorce, legal separation, a child ceases to be a dependent child under the terms of the group health plan); (b) the date the qualified person would otherwise lose coverage as a result of a qualifying event; or (c) the date the qualified person is first informed of this notice obligation; otherwise the right to COBRA continuation period ends. This 60-day notice period applies to initial and second qualifying events.

Qualified person must make written election within 60 days after the later of: (1) the date group health coverage would normally end; or (2) the date of the plan administrator's election notice. The election notice must be returned to Principal Life Insurance Company within this 60-day period; otherwise the right to elect COBRA continuation ends.

If you initially reject COBRA, qualified persons may elect COBRA if written election is made to Principal Life within the 60-day election period.

Each qualified person has an independent right to elect COBRA. A covered member may elect COBRA continuation on behalf of his/her covered spouse. A covered member, parent, or legal guardian may elect COBRA continuation on behalf of is/her covered dependent children.

Qualified persons who request an extension of COBRA due to disability must submit a written request to the plan administrator before the 18-month COBRA continuation period ends and within 60 days after the latest of the following dates: (a) the date of disability determination by the Social Security Administration; (b) the date of the qualifying event; (c) the date the qualified person would otherwise lose coverage as a result of a qualifying event; or (d) the date the qualified person is first informed of the notice obligation; otherwise the right to the disabled extension (described in item H on this page) ends. Qualified persons must also notify the plan administrator within 30 days after the date the Social Security Administration determines the qualified person is not longer disabled.

Notification of a qualifying event must be in writing and must include the following information: (a) name and identification number of the member and each qualified beneficiary; (b) type and date of the qualifying event; (c) if the notice is for an extension due to disability, a copy of any letters from the Social Security Administration and the Notice of Determination; and (d) the name, address and daytime phone number of the qualified person (or legal representative) that the plan administrator may contact if additional information is needed to determine COBRA rights.

To protect COBRA rights, the plan administrator and Principal Life must be informed of any address changes for covered members and dependents. Retain copies of any notices sent to the plan administrator.

(G) Plan Changes. Continued group health coverage(s) will be subject to the same benefit and rate changes that apply to the group plan. Principal Life will notify qualified persons of any plan changes by a notation on the statement on which the change is reflected. Contact the plan administrator for details on these changes. Qualified persons may elect different plan offerings available under the group health plan during the open enrollment period (i.e., switch from an indemnity plan to an HMO plan).

(H) Disabled Extension. Following a termination of employment or reduction in work hours, a qualified person (member or dependent) who has been determined disabled by the Social Security Administration either before or within 60 days after the qualifying event may request an extension of COBRA continuation from 18 months to 29 months. A member's child who is born to or placed for adoption with the member who is on COBRA continuation may also qualify for the disabled extension if the Social Security Administration has determined the child disabled within 60 days after the date of birth or placement for adoption. The disabled extension also applies to each qualified person (the disabled person or any family member), who is not disabled and who is on COBRA continuation as a result of termination of employment or reduction in work hours.

The 11-month extension for all qualified persons will end the earlier of: (a) 30 days following the date the disabled person is no longer determined by Social Security to be disabled; or (b) the date COBRA continuation would normally end (see item C).

(I) Newly Acquired Dependents. A qualified person may elect coverage for a dependent acquired during COBRA continuation. All enrollment and notification requirements that apply to dependents of active members apply to dependents acquired by qualified persons during COBRA continuation. Qualified persons must apply to Principal Life for coverage for newly acquired dependents. Refer to the booklet certificate for provisions regarding dependent eligibility and effective dates.

Coverage for newly acquired dependents will end on the same dates as described in Section C. Exception: Coverage for newly acquired dependents, other than a member's dependent child who is born to or placed for adoption with the member, will not be extended as a result of a second qualifying event described in B (5).

(J) Other Group Health Coverage or Medicare. If during the continuation period, a qualified person becomes enrolled under Medicare or becomes covered by and has satisfied the preexisting exclusion provision of another group health plan, COBRA continuation will terminate. Any payment of benefit after COBRA continuation should have otherwise been terminated will be considered to be a benefit overpayment. Qualified persons are required to repay any benefit overpayment.

(K) Individual Purchase (Conversion). When a qualified person is no longer eligible for COBRA continuation, he/she may apply for Individual Purchase if available under the group health plan. Persons who are eligible for similar benefits which would result in over-insurance or whose COBRA continuation ends because payment was not made timely may not purchase conversion. Application for Individual Purchase, and payment of the required premium, must be made within 31 days after COBRA continuation ends. Individual Purchase coverage may not duplicate your prior coverage.

(L) Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act (HIPAA) Rights. Failure to elect COBRA continuation will affect the following future rights and protections under HIPAA: (1) Preexisting condition exclusions may be applied by other group health plans if there is more than a 63-day gap in coverage; and (2) Guarantee issue of an individual policy without a preexisting condition exclusion will not be available if the qualified person does not maintain COBRA through the maximum continuation period. Under HIPAA, qualified persons may also have special enrollment rights under another group health plan for which he/she is otherwise eligible. Requests for special enrollment rights must be made within 30 days of the date group health coverage ends due to a qualifying event or when the maximum COBRA continuation period ends.
